VIT
Vellore Institute of Technology

Final Assessment Test – November/December 2023

Course: BMGT101L – Principles of Management

Class NBR(s): 1712/ 1713/ 1718/ 1724 Slot: G1+TG1

Time: Three Hours Max. Marks: 100

KEEPING MOBILE PHONE/SMART WATCH, EVEN IN 'OFF' POSITION IS TREATED AS EXAM MALPRACTICE

General Instructions:

Draw sketches wherever needed to enhance presentation, whether specifically asked or not.

PART – A (6 X 10 = 60 Marks)

Answer ALL Questions

1. A multinational company is planning to start its operations in India; the principal language of communication in the parent organisation is French, present a communication process model to be followed in its Indian branch.
2. Easy-transport shipyard wants to build a new aircraft carrier. The project is complex and requires a high level of coordination between different departments. How would you use the concepts of leading and staffing to ensure that the project is completed on time and within budget?
3. In the 1950s, Toyota was struggling to compete with American automakers.

   To turn things around, Toyota decided to redesign its jobs. The company wanted to create jobs that were more challenging and rewarding for employees. Toyota also wanted to create jobs that would lead to higher quality and more efficient production. Toyota's job redesign efforts were a success. The company's cars became more reliable and efficient, and Toyota became one of the most profitable automakers in the world. Present the salient features of Toyota's job design. Analyse the various steps you would take to redesign the job for the employees of anyone company of your choice to make it grow.
4. A multi axle transport vehicle manufacturing company has found out that one of the employees associated with the company for three decades had systematically siphoned of a huge amount into his brother's account, he was terminated and the money was recovered partially. To avoid such occurrences in future and to eliminate theft by employees. Recommend a suitable operation management strategy to the top management.
5. A leather industry has 220 employees in India, 200 in Srilanka, 120 in Nepal and 40 in Bhutan, present the key factors that should be considered when making decisions in order to maximize profitability in international operations.

6. In an international school, every detail is passed on to the Principal and he spends lot of time analysing every detail and his efficiency and effectiveness are too low In the context of information overload. Critically analyse this case and elaborate the effects of it, Present suitable remedies to avoid information overload.

PART – B (2 X 20 = 40 Marks)
Answer any TWO Questions

7. A large tech company was launching a new product, and the stakes were high. The product had been in development for years, and the company was expecting it to be a major success. However, on launch day, the product was plagued with problems. Customers reported bugs, crashes, and other issues. The company was forced to quickly pull the product from the market and issue a refund to all customers. The company's investigation revealed that there had been a number of failures in the controls process. Identify the different types of controls that were not properly implemented in this case study. Analyse the steps the company would have taken to improve its controls process and prevent this disaster from happening?

8. Southwest Airlines has grown rapidly since its founding in 1971, and it is now one of the largest airlines in the United States. Southwest's corporate culture is focused on employee motivation.

   It has a reputation for excellent customer service, and it is consistently ranked as one of the best airlines in the United States. Present your views on how Southwest Airlines' culture of employee motivation has contributed to its success? Demonstrate the application of any two motivational theories in the success of the company.

9. Netflix has over 220 million subscribers in 190 countries. The company is known for its innovative and customer-centric culture, as well as its unique organizational structure. The company has very few layers of management, and employees are given a great deal of autonomy and responsibility. This structure allows Netflix to be more agile and responsive to change. Netflix has grown rapidly in recent years, and it is now one of the most valuable companies in the world.

   Present the structure followed by this company and explain how this structure contributes to the success.

⇔⇔⇔